

New faces on teaching staff

by Jennifer Wilson

There are four new faces on the teaching staff this year. They are Allison Bunck, Brian Fraizer, Nichole Wetjen, and Jason Friesen.

Mrs. Bunck is a first-year teacher and will be teaching Biology. She grew up in Philadelphia. She received her Bachelors degree in agronomy from Kansas State University, and her teaching certificate from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

"I like the small town, because the people are friendlier. In big cities people are all about themselves," said Mrs. Bunck about Aurora.

Her hobbies include reading, antiquing, and playing with her one-year-old son, Cole. Mrs. Bunck enjoys country and 80's music, and loves the show "Everybody Loves Raymond."

In her 11th year, Mrs. Wetjen will be teaching special education. She has taught at Columbus Middle School, Lakin High School in Kansas and Crete Middle School.

She graduated from Axtell High School. She received her Bachelors in Special Education and her Masters in counseling from University of Nebraska at Kearney.

Her hobbies include reading, biking and swimming. "I'm kind of eccentric," said Mrs. Wetjen of her taste in music. She really enjoys Christian and bluegrass music.

This is Mr. Fraizer's fourth year teaching. He will be teaching general science, physical science and advanced biology.

He taught previously at York Public Schools. He grew up in Stromsburg. He graduated from Bethany College in Kansas and is now taking graduate classes at Kansas State University.

"I'm so much more than science," said Mr. Fraizer about his hobbies which include his family, hunting and a love for music. His goal for this year is to give the students something they will remember.

Mr. Frieson is student teaching this year with Miss Klawonn in the high school and Mr. Ramsour in the middle school.

Mr. Frieson graduated from Heartland Community School. HE attended the University of Nebraska at Lincoln from 1999-2004, transferred to York College in 2004 and will graduate in December.

He loves to play, coach, and watch sports. "I like the challenges and rewards that a teacher gets from helping students learn," said Mr. Frieson. His goal for this year is to finish his education and learn as much as possible, so he can be a successful teacher.

Homecoming week is filled with spirited activities

by MaryLou Andrews

Where can you find hillbillies, movie stars, and kids decked out in red and white, all in the same week? Take a look at Aurora High School this week and enjoy some of the Homecoming festivities.

Dressing up for school is a big draw for many students during Spirit Week. Wednesday is "Redneck Day," where students are encouraged to dress up like hillbillies to show their school spirit. "Glamour Day" on Thursday will have students dressing their best for their school, and "Red and White Day" will allow the students to get completely decked out with Husky pride.

Each day, winners will be chosen from the student body for the best costumes. These places will be one part of the "Class of the Class" competition. Other factors for this competition include the class with the highest overall GPA, fewest tardies, fewest students on down list, and a banner competition. One part of the competition that was dropped is the hallway decorating competition.

The Homecoming festivities continue Friday with the Homecoming Parade, which will start at 1:30 p.m. and will feature floats, the marching band, and the king and queen candidates.

The king and queen candidates are Sally Wolff, Nikki Husmann, Hope Hunnicutt, MaryLou Andrews, Colin Scott, Clint Mickey, Jared Melcher, and Joe Broekemeir.

After the parade, there will be a pep rally held on the street on the square. It will be in the street to involve more people. There will also be a skit in the street involving many students.

Back at the school, the Fellowship of Christian Girls will be holding their annual Soup Supper from 5-7 in the Middle School Commons. Some of the funds will go towards the Disaster Relief.

The football game will kick off at 7 p.m. against Hastings. During halftime, the king and queen will be announced and crowned by last year's royalty, Emily Moyer and Chase Newman. The Aurora marching band will play part of their "Les Miserables" field show in full uniform.

Saturday night is Homecoming Dance, and it will be from 9-12 in the high school gym. Dress for the dance is semi-formal.

"My favorite part of Homecoming is seeing kids get involved in all of the parts of Spirit Week," said Assistant Principal Jan Hoegh.
